CHAMBER, COUNCIL PLAN HARBOR IMPROVEMENT

SOUNDING OF CHANNEL SOUGHT

Sounding of the turning basin and channel of the Richmond inner harbor by the U. S. government will be asked by the Richmond city council, according to a discussion held yesterday noon at the Hotel Carquinez. Members of the Richmond city council and the harbor committee of the chamber of commerce attended the meeting.

According to City Manager J. A. McVittie at the present time a portion of the channel and the turning basin is at least 21 feet in depth and other portions are over 24 feet deep. Soundings were made by the government last March and at that time it was found that the channel and basin had a uniform depth of 24 feet. Since that time silt may have drifted into the channel.

As soon as the soundings are made an estimate of the cost of dredging the channel and basin to a depth of 30 or more feet to take care of the ships docking at the inner harbor wharves, will be asked.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—(U.P.)—Forsdahl's ejection of Cronwell Ormsby, nearly hysterical lawyer, or Amee Temple McPherson late today climaxed a sensational session of the legislative committee investigating a $5000 check given Superior Judge Carlos Hardy by Angelus Temple.

The young council was excluded from the chamber after he had shouted that questioning involving Mrs. McPherson's strange "kidnaping" was "dastardly and cowardly."

Ormsby threatened to take the evangelist before the state assembly at Sacramento and entreat that body to stop the present trend of testimony. The committee sitting here was appointed by the assembly to learn if Judge Hardy should be impeached for accepting the check during the "kidnaping" investigation.

75 Marooned On Ice Floe Of Lake Saved

HOLLAND, Mich., Jan. 30.—(U.P.)—Approximately 75 persons, who have been marooned in a Lake Michigan ice floe for more than two days, were brought to shore late today.

Those isolated were the crew and passengers of the great trunk line ferry, Madison and Grand Rapids. The two boats pulled out of the ice field without mishap this afternoon.

However, the ferries Milwaukee and Grand Haven still are held in the ice. Approximately 60 persons are on them, but an ample supply of provisions and coal save assurance against suffering on the marooned crafts.

The present temp near here was termed 30c, most serious since 1917 when ice floes blocked the entire line between here and Milwaukee.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 30.—(U.P.)—Doctors were making an effort tonight to save the frozen hand and feet of Lewis Sweet, fisherman, who was rescued from an ice field near White Shoals light where he was marooned for several days.

Marin Span Vital Kiwanis Club Told

Not Richmond alone, but the entire Bay section has much at stake in the construction of the Richmond-San Rafael bridge, Charles D. Borchert, Jr., professor of civil engineering at the University of California, told members of the Richmond Kiwanis club yesterday. Borchert is engineer for the Richmond-San Rafael bridge company.

Plans for the bridge were outlined by the speaker who declared that within a few days a report should be heard from the War department upon action taken on the request for permission to build the bridge.

Borchert declared that the need for the Richmond-San Rafael span comes before the proposed Oakland-San Francisco bridge on the Golden Gate, San Francisco.

The bridge in no way will affect the harbor growth here, he declared. The span will be of steel and concrete construction similar to the Carquinez bridge. It will have a roadway of steel and concrete 3 feet wide and capable of a weight of 45 feet when designed.

This will be a cantilever span 1100 feet long with a clearance above high water of 135 feet. All in all the bridge would be 17,000 feet long, he said.

Today Last Chance For Auto License

It has usually been the custom of the state motor vehicle offices to keep their office in Oakland open until late on the last day of the license rush, but yesterday an announcement was made that the offices will close at five sharp.

License applications mailed must be in the Sacramento offices by midnight tonight. It was stated.

STEAMER LOADING

The Rhine Mar of the Yamashita Steamship company of Japan docked at the outer harbor wharves yesterday to load gasoline for Yokohama. The boat is scheduled to leave this morning.

RECORD FOR BUILDING SEEN

The year 1929 should be a banner year in home building for the city of Richmond, judging from the building report for January made public yesterday by City Building Inspector Arthur J. Hurley.

During the month of January building operations here totalled in value $4,178,000, according to Hurley's report.

According to the report, 13 homes were constructed during the month at a cost of $16,750 and two business buildings were constructed at a cost of $3500. Alterations numbered 15 and the cost was $3285. Miscellaneous items totalled $1150.

Compared to the last 12 months of last year the home building record for this month is higher than the combined two months. In November and December homes constructed here totalled 11. In December five were built and in November six were constructed.

January's record shatters that for January, 1928. Last year 1400 business buildings were built at a cost of $4150, four dwellings were constructed at a cost of $12,600, 13 alterations were made at a cost of $5,710 and miscellaneous items totalled $2965, making a total for the month of $23,555.

"Richmond should have a good building year," Hurley stated yesterday. "From the appearance of this month's report we should go over the $2,000,000 figure for the year's work."

COMMUNISTS BUSY IN FREE AMERICA

Those who believe or profess to believe that communism is a far off plague which will never reach the United States, will get a great deal of valuable information from an interesting and convincing article in the National Republic. It is entitled "The Communist Nuclei" and was written by Mrs. William Sherman Walker, chairman of the national defense committee, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Walker declares that the reds are busy among the youth and the school children, not only in Russia but in America. Continuing she says:

"A number of facts testify that the banner of Leninism in the United States is being thrust into the hands of American children. The increase of Leninism is apparent, for the American communist Workers' Party has been industriously organizing its work and many like events have contributed to the strengthening of communist activities in this country. The Lenin memorial meetings and similar gatherings in honor of Ruthenberg have brought communism to the attention of thousands of people. A translation from the Pravda, April 10, 1928, (organ of the executive committee of the Moscow committee of the Russian Communist Party, published in Petrograd) is authority for the statement. "Speakers of the Communist Party traveled over the entire country from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, speaking at meetings in all important industrial cities of the United States." The greatest success in holding meetings and in penetrating industrial centers is reported from sections of the country populated by miners and textile workers in localities like New York, Massachusetts and Michigan.

"It has become a custom in the hundreds of communist meetings held around the country designate at least the first 20 minutes of the meetings as the young people's period. Children prepare and execute as their episode lively programs which may consist of playlets, songs, declamations, debates, yells, physical culture demonstrations, games, aesthetic dancing and a wide exhibition of the concrete adaptation of communism to the lives of children.

"Instructions issued by the Young Communist International from the International Publishing House in London proclaim that it must be explained to all the communist leaders and to the children. "What we have to do in order to give an impetus to the activity of the children both in and out of school." In describing the work of the school nuclei, methods are delineated as follows.

"School nuclei as well as individual members of the communist children's groups must develop initiative in all spheres of work in order to make possible the penetration of active members of the children's groups into all organizations, during intervals and free time, to organize children's correspondence circles for children's newspapers and periodicals and the making up of wall newspapers.

"Finally, the struggle for the economic demands of the children (school breakfasts, school appliances free of charge, etc.) must be given a more concrete form and must be adapted to existing conditions and also to opportunities presented in this or that locality children.

BEAUTY

Cold days are those when the woman with dry, sensitive skin must take particularly good care of it. Otherwise it will shrivel and crack and show a most distressing tendency to wrinkle. It must be kept well fed and will respond to relief of its emotional and physical distress.

After cleaning with cream at night, a rich skin food should be worked into the skin by rubbing gently with an upward and outward motion. A film of the cream can be profitably left on overnight. Before she ventures out, the woman with this type of skin will always, if she is careful of her complexion, protect it with a vanishing cream before she uses her cosmetics. Soap and water should be avoided for the most part.

Dear Miss Lane, Do you like the style of wearing bobbed hair very long and tucked behind the ears? The girls in school are doing it, but I am not sure that I want to let mine grow. Is it the newest style, ANNE.

When difference does it make whether it is the newest style? The question should be whether it suits you better than more strictly clipped locks. Don't do your hair the way every other girl in school does it arrange it so that it is becoming to your particular style.

Many girls who wear their hair that length do so because they are letting it grow. Others do so because everyone else does and because it is a great deal to the effect.

Your fan style,

There are many things to consider in deciding how to fix your hair. Study your profile carefully and arrange the hair to accentuate your good points. If you don't have small, pretty ears and if your hair doesn't grow gracefully round your face, don't pull it behind your ears.

LIFE OF MOSES DISCUSSED BY DR. BULGIN

"Was Moses Scientific?" was the subject of Dr. E. J. Bulgin's sermon at the First Baptist church last night at 7:30 p. m. He said in part: "You will find my text tonight in Luke 14:31: 'If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.'"

"Now, this man Moses came at a time when the nations had many gods. But this man Moses headed the list of teachers, with his profound thought, and he was able to harness his thought and make the other fellow see it. He says: 'There is but one God.' But how does he make them see it? There is but one God, and he names him Jehovah, the God that was, is and always will be, and therefore, the only God. As a teacher Moses has not an equal in all the world."

Great Leader

"Take Moses, not only as a prophet and teacher, but take him as an emancipator. Never had the world before heard of a single man who could move an army of three million people; it is a big thing. But I introduce you to a man as general of an army who moved three million people out of bondage and into liberty and they were not organized either—no armor, no guns and no provisions."

"I tell you when you begin to measure the prophet Moses as an emancipator you have a big thing on your hands. He just took a jack-knife out of his pocket, went into the brambles and cut a walking stick and leaped into the air, liberating three million people with it."

As Legislator

"Moses as a legislator, brought law to bear on those conditions that if practical today would right all our wrongs; he was the father of our American Republic. We boast of our democracy and republicanism, where did we get it? Moses originated it when he brought the Israelites out of Egypt where they had many gods and many lords, and a dictatorial system of government. Moses delivered a nation from slavery."

"Jesus Christ came to break the shackles of slavery and to free every sinner from the bondage of sin, to deliver the race of Adam and set it free. Moses died that he might deliver his people, and the spirit of his work went on in reformation. Moses was buried by the hand of an angel and evidently arose from the dead and went home to glory. Because he appeared with Elijah, who never died, but was taken to Heaven alive and on yonder mount came back in bodily form with both Moses and Elijah. So also Christ died, was buried and rose from the dead and went home to glory. Moses lived up to the end in the wilderness that it might be a type of the curative powers of Christ. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Take A Little Ride With Me

FLEETER, SMARTER, PONTIAC DISPLAYED IN SHOWROOMS OF J. P. STROM, LOCAL AGENCY

Truly a car in the low price field, the Pontiac Six for 1929—bigger, fleeter and smarter—is displayed in the complete line of the new models which are now on display at the J. P. Strom agency, 1229 Macdonald avenue. A shipment of the new models was received yesterday by Strom who is the Richmond agent for this popular car in Richmond.

Heralded as a "big" six, the new Pontiac measures up to its name by offering a wide and flexible performance range, and distinctive Fisher bodies styled to please, an exacting public.

The new line provides not only new body lines, but a car at a most "entirely" new. Major features of the chassis and body all have been redesigned or enlarged to bring the car in performance and smartness, into the big car field.

Engine More Powerful

The engine more powerful than a year ago, with 200 cubic inches of cylinder displacement and developing 57 horse power; the addition of a harmonic balancer and counter-balanced crankshaft; larger valve, manifold and carburetor; sturdier rear axle; redesigned transmission assembly; and new Hotchkiss drive with two universal joints are among the chassis improvements that make possible quick, vibrationless acceleration and high top speed.

Striking Lines

A full side view shows to best advantage the striking of the new car. A new, pleasing concave belt moulding starting at the cowl and completely encircling the body, and a high waist line effect, distinguish the Fisher bodies. This moulding is not continued down the hood as in the Oakland models, but a new curved pillar line, quite similar in appearance to one of America's best cars, runs from the center panel on the cowl down to the rear of the hood.

Smart Low Louvre

A smart new louvre grouping sets the car instantly apart in traffic. Instead of in the conventional manner, louvres are all grouped in one panel and extend horizontally across the hood.

Fisher Body

The Fisher closed bodies all have adjustable driver's seats, smart new sun visors of all-metal construction tilting beam headlights operated by foot control, ebony-finish instrument panel with individual mounting and illumination by two shielded bulbs; smart elliptical windows in rear, slender ebony-finish steering wheel; Jack Kapral, of Richmond. Mrs. Kapral charges that her husband abandoned her on Nov. 20, 1927. She is represented by Attorney Robinson, of Richmond.

Power Plant Enlarged

The enlarged power plant renders wonderfully flexible performance comparable to that of the Oakland All-American line, thus bringing the new Pontiac into the big car class while retaining within the price range of the small six. The larger 167-inch engine develops 57 brake horsepower at 3,000 revolutions per minute, and has a cylinder displacement of 200 inches as against 186 last year. Both bore and stroke have been enlarged.

Redesigned Crankshaft

A redesigned crankshaft, fully counterweighted and statically and dynamically balanced, and a harmonic balancer, of the Pontiac for the first time this year contribute to the car's capable and vibrationless performance.

Other Factors

Other factors making the power output more efficient include semi-steeple pistons, high compression G-M-R cylinder head, larger manifold, larger carburetor with accelerating pump and fuel economizer, larger intake valves and in-

Transmission Changed

Changes in the transmission make possible quicker gear shifting and reduce wear on the gears. The parking brake also is mounted on this year on the transmission and has 27.7 square inches of braking area.

Service Brakes

Service brakes are the new Oakland developed "weather-proof" type with extremely simple hook-up and effective action. They are mechanical, internal expanding on all four wheels, and operate on large eleven-inch drums to provide 192 square inches of braking surface.

Advantages

Advantages claimed for the new brake are permanent silence under all operating conditions; complete enclosure of all working parts; not affected by mud, dust, water or changes of temperature; ease and simplicity of adjustment; 5,000 to 10,000 miles between adjustments; 20,000 to 30,000 miles on each set of linings; no drag or overheating; no equalization necessary; simplicity of working parts; and only one or two working parts requiring oil and those only at long intervals.

New Rear Axle

A sturdy new rear axle of exactly the same type as used on the current Oakland All-American six is an important advance in the new car, and furthers its claim to providing big six features in the low price range.

Use of the same type axle on both lines of cars is made possible because Oakland, now operating its own axle plant, can turn out axles for both cars on a volume basis that keeps costs within the previous level. The axle is the semi-floating type with spiral bevel drive gears, and heat treated chrome-nickel steel shaft.

Accommodate

To accommodate the enlarged rear axle the Hotchkiss drive principle, employing two universal joints, replaces the former torque tube drive.

A pleasing rear end effect is achieved by the new ribbed shield covering the larger gas tank, with reading gauge on the instrument panel. On the panel also are grouped an eighty-mile speedometer, oil gauge, ammeter, light switch, choke, and throttle control buttons, windshield cleaner control, Delco-Remy combination transmission and ignition lock and instrument light switch. All instrument dials are black with white figures.

With an overall length of 167 inches from bumper to bumper, and with increased body width for the greater comfort of passengers, the car conforms in size with the big car performance of its larger power plant.

Features characteristic of the entire line include larger headlamps of modified bullet type design with chrome plated door and narrow rim; head rolled in to the outer edge of fenders and carried along the running board moulding; running boards with polished aluminum moulding; hood catches cadmium plated; new tire carrier supported on sturdy brackets; NV windshield on closed body type; rear view mirror; crank type window regulator; automatic windshield cleaner; new approved combination tail and stop light and license support; larger Delco-Remy motor driven horn, and theft-proof door locks.

Upholstery material in the closed models is of mohair, corduroy or velour in solid colors matching the smart new exterior Duco finishes. Open types are upholstered in Spanish leather trimmed in fabricoid, with tops of gray cloth.

CITY FILES 27 QUIET TITLE ACTIONS

The city of Richmond yesterday filed 27 suits to quiet title. The defendants in 10 of the suits are the McEwen Brothers, a corporation. The other defendants are: Edith A. McEwen, Ellis P. Johnson, N. Koehler, Olga Koehler, Guglielmo Ghilardi, Debi Jennings, Ella Korman, Della Korman, Charles Duran, Barbara Coyne, Kathryn Martin, Albertine E. Stein, J. H. Stein, Edwin M. Ahrens, Corinne I. The city purchased 27 parcels of land at the last tax collector's sale by the state of California for taxes. The property has had street improvements under the 1915 bonds which provides that in the event that the property owners do not pay the street bonds that the city must do so. In order to protect the city interests in the bonds, the city manager purchased the property at the last tax sale. The actions were filed by Thomas Carlson, Richmond city attorney. If successful the suits will vest title to the 27 parcels of land described in the complaint.

The total number of suits filed by Carlson exceeds the number of suits heretofore filed in the history of the city of Richmond.

Jury Fails To Agree On Local Damage Action

A San Francisco jury yesterday failed to agree upon a verdict in a $55,000 damage suit of Albert Westling and Mrs. Julia Westling against the Southern Pacific company. The jury was dismissed by Superior Judge A. L. Strathairn.

Albert Westling sought $51,841 damages and Mrs. Julia Westling wanted $9,826 damages for injuries to the former and the death of the latter husband in the accident.

Flu Wanes, But Authorities Fear New Wave, As In 1918

Public health officials now report a decline in the number of new flu cases. They urge everybody, however, to keep on taking precautionary steps to ward off a second and more severe flu wave, as in 1918.

That millions throughout the country are heeding this warning is evident from the persistent call for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment which proved so helpful in 1918. The Vicks laboratories are still operating the emergency night shifts which were put on at the height of the epidemic, as the public continues to demand over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.

Today a new type of low cost luxury is available. It contrasts big car style. It provides big riding comfort. It embodies big car quality in unseen parts. It is offered by a brand new automobile—the New Pontiac Big Six.

Frankly, the New Pontiac Big Six was designed to appeal to a certain group. This group is made up of people who are beginning to move up in the world. Many of them will soon make the first step up in the quality of their cars. The New Pontiac Big Six was designed for them.

It comes to them entirely new in appearance. Stunning new bodies by Fisher contribute to the big car beauty and big car style presented by the car as a whole.

Progressive people are seeking greater luxury. The Pontiac Big Six offers them the luxury for which bodies by Fisher are famous the world over. It provides the smooth-riding qualities of a car 167 inches in overall length, with accurately balanced rotating mechanical parts and such advanced comfort features as adjustable drivers' seats.

Only a few highlights in its construction have been mentioned. Just enough to prove that the Pontiac Big Six is entirely new and capable of meeting progressive Americans' demand. But the amazing thing about it is that it gives so much big car luxury, style and performance at prices which come within practically everyone's reach!

To Whom It May Concern:

I suffered from Diabetes and Heart Trouble and never for some time it seemed as though no relief could be had anywhere. Two months ago, however, I began to feel better. CHAMBER, CITY PLAN HARBOR WORK after the estimates are made the Federal engineers will be approached by the city council with the hopes that the government can aid the city in this dredging.

At the present time the government takes care of the harbor to the depth of 24 feet and it is up to the city to take care of dredging the harbor deeper.

The waters along the wharves is deep enough to take care of any cargo ships that may dock at the wharves, McVittie stated. But adjustment must be made in order that ships entering the harbor may turn.

Wharf Work

The inner harbor wharves should be finished about July, McVittie stated. The work on the Richmond section will cost about $260,000. This includes the cost of constructing wharves, wharf sheds and tracks leading to the project. Fred D. Parr, of the Parr Richmond terminal company is constructing wharves and wharf sheds similar to those of the city under agreement with the city council last year.

Parr told the council yesterday noon that at the present time he has an agent touring the country "rounding up" business for the new wharves. At this time, he stated, enough business has been engaged in advance to keep the inner harbor wharves busy for some time after their completion.

If the government is unable to take care of the dredging, Richmond may be forced to take care of the work under the harbor bonds voted by the city last year. This, of course, it was said, would be unsatisfactory. The more desirable method would be to have the government help in the dredging.

Several Weeks Work

McVittie expressed his opinion yesterday that the government would be glad to make the soundings at the inner harbor. It is expected that the city council will call for the soundings at its next meeting. Several weeks may be taken before the work is finished.

When the soundings are finished and the estimates made as to how much land must be removed from the channel and basin, work will start on the project.

The city council, headed by Mayor Mattie Chandler, City Manager James McVittie, City Engineer Ed Hoffman, City Attorney Thomas Carlson, Fred D. Parr of the Parr Richmond terminal company, and P. M. Sanford, J. F. Brooks, Larkin Younce and H. A. Johnston of the Chamber of Commerce harbor committee, attended the meeting.

Recommendations that the state safety commission make a thorough investigation with the view of making changes that would result in making further accidents at the Associated Oil plant at Martinez impossible, were made by a coroner's jury yesterday at an inquest in the death of Steve Composto, 38.

Composto was badly burned when a can of gasoline exploded in the soldering room at the refinery last week. He died several days ago.

According to the testimony given, Composto died from second and third degree burns. The jury's verdict was death from burns received in a gas explosion on Jan. 29.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Aubrey Wilson.

REED DEFENDS CRUISER BILL IN LAST TALK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(U.P.)—James A. Reed of Missouri, for 18 years the Patrick Henry of the senate, made the last oratorical stand of his career today in a plea for the cruiser construction bill.

He is voluntarily retiring from public life at the close of this session March 4.

The veteran's last big scene was characteristic. It flowed along smoothly with classical allusions and vivid figures of speech but bristled at times with sarcasm and belligerence. Many of his colleagues considered it the greatest oration of his career.

Speech Lauded

Even Senator Brookhart, Iowa republican, the target for several of Reed's derisive shots, said the speech was "the greatest ever made by a disciple of the old school."

The burden of Reed's argument was that all the nations of the world are preparing for war, particularly with the United States, and that this country must be ready to defend itself in case of another world conflict.

Reed advocated immediate adoption of the pending bill which would authorize construction of 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier within the next three years.

"Listen, Dreamers"

Reading a compilation of figures showing the respective armaments of the great powers, Reed shouted: "Listen, O you dreamers! Listen and you can hear the roar of furnaces which are forging the plates of great battleships! Listen and you will hear the chorus of mighty hammers shaping the keels of fighting men of the sea!"

"Look and you will see great engineers planning and plotting how the American fleet can be destroyed—figuring the elevation of every gun."

Many Attend

The floor of the senate filled rapidly as word spread that "Jim" Reed was making his last big speech. The galleries filled as if by magic.

"This is the age of rivalry," he continued. "Great cities strive against weaker cities; great corporations gobble up small corporations; great individuals break down weak individuals."

"The same rule applies to nations. If our commerce expands it hurts the others. Behind this situation is the prejudice of centuries which compels the governments to yield even to the point of making war."

Replying to Reed later, Brookhart called Reed's talk "the history of cannibalism," quoting the adage:

"He who lives by the sword shall perish by the sword."

REPORTER HITS TESTIMONY OF AIMEE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Aimee Semple McPherson, the smartly clad evangelist of Angelus Temple, today heard a Los Angeles newspaperman contradict part of the testimony she gave before a legislative committee investigating a $2500 check given Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy by the temple.

William Parker testified that Mrs. Mianie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, had told him that the check was ordered over her protests by her daughter.

The revivalist sat calmly on a camp stool, so placed that she could watch every movement of the witness, but she gave no indication of the effect his unexpected statement. She amused herself by drawing crude sketches of persons in the room.

Agreement Told

Mrs. McPherson had previously told the committee that she and her mother agreed that the check should be given as a "love offering."

Parker said that he had gained the information concerning Mrs. Kennedy's attitude in a recent interview with her in Seattle. The repeated mention of her mother, with whom she has broken, apparently made no impression on Mrs. McPherson.

A half smile crossed her face as Parker testified that she had not wanted to give the check to authorities and that when her business manager, Ralph Jordan, advised her to do so she said:

Audience Snickers

"Look here, big boy, who do you think you are talking to?" The remark drew a snicker from the audience, but there was heard a throaty "amen" from sections of the chamber.

Mrs. McPherson clad in a blue ensemble, breezed into the hearing today, expecting to be recalled for further testimony immediately but was told to remain as a spectator.

Until the committee had taken all the testimony it believes necessary in its effort to determine whether Judge Hardy should be impeached for accepting the check while sitting on the superior bench, she will not be allowed to leave for a revival tour of Canada.

New Angle

Parker's testimony was the most important of the day, giving as it did an entirely new angle on the check Aimee had held that the $2500 was given to Judge Hardy with approval of Angelus Temple members and entirely at her mother's suggestion.

According to Parker, Mrs. Kennedy told him that the suggestion came from her daughter and that the matter was to be kept a secret.

"My daughter has not kept faith with me in other matters and I feel justified in mentioning the check," Parker quoted Mrs. Kennedy as telling him.

Radio For Politics

The mother also expressed the opinion that Judge Hardy and Judge Walter Gates, another temple speaker, had used the Angelus radio for political purposes, Parker said.

There was no protest from Mrs. McPherson or her counsel during Parker's testimony but Judge Hardy's attorneys made an attempt to have Parker questioned in secret, on the ground that his statements were hearsay, Parker refused to consent.

Parker said that Mrs. Kennedy had told him that she "never thought Judge Hardy was worth $2500" but that his wife had said that he needed a vacation and could not afford to take it.

The witness bore out Aimee's statement that Judge Hardy did not render legal services during the investigation of her mysterious "kidnaping" when he testified that Mrs. Kennedy had told him that she did not believe any legal advice was rendered.

"Divine Guidance"

When Mrs. McPherson was advised by Jordan to produce the check she sent for Rev. J. W. Arthur Temple bookkeeper to get her the check. He could not find it.

"Mrs. McPherson said that it was just another case of how she was divinely guided and protected and that she knew that was why Brother Arthur couldn't locate the check," Parker said.

He denied that he had offered Mrs. Kennedy $300 for her story and then not paid her.

Attorneys for Judge Hardy sought to have the committee go to Seattle to take Mrs. Kennedy's deposition or to bring her here but their motion was overruled for the time being.

CHILD BORN IN STEGE HELD PIONEER

called Richmond today there were no houses at all. Joint Richmond having five or six to its credit. Most of the residents lived in the Stege district and worked at the Acid Works. Mrs. O'Neale states that the spirit that prevailed at then was that of the forty-nines. Having very few conveniences at hand, the people depended more or less upon one another and the spirit of gentility was prevalent.

Mrs. O'Neale was a friend of the Stege family, one of the first families to settle in this section. The Stege family home is one of the landmarks of this district and is situated in the center of East Shore Park. The park was formerly a part of the Stege estate but was given to the city by Miss Stege many years ago.

Early Residents

Among other residents of the Stege district at that time were A. Carlen and John Walker. Samuel Jorden, Mrs. O'Neale's son, is now a broker in Oakland. He was employed in Richmond for several years as a draftsman at the Standard Oil company. He has a half-sister, Mrs. Helen Thayer, of Philadelphia and a half-brother, Michale A. C. C. WILL SEEK INDUSTRIES FOR CITY

Launching on a period of intensive community development and community housing, the newly elected board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will stress new industries above everything in 1929, according to announcement by the chamber yesterday.

It was pointed out that Richmond's prosperity and growth depend on large measure upon her ability to draw new industries and thus create larger payrolls and more buying power, and hence the chamber will during 1929 stress this one feature above all else in the community program.

Eastern Trips

The chamber adopted the plan recently of acting as a fund to finance selling trips to the east through which well informed local men may go to the big industrial centers and lay before them details of what Richmond has to offer in the way of industrial lands, good climate, labor supply and other features that make a satisfactory location for a manufacturer.

The plan, it has been pointed out, has been used successfully by the largest American cities in attracting industries. Heretofore Richmond has confined itself to occasional selling trips, with much of the program being handled by letters and booklets.

Tentative plans for a new industrial booklet specializing entirely in the industrial advantages of Richmond are now under way.

New Board

Attendance of directors at the chamber of commerce meetings averages close to 100 per cent at all meetings, an unusually high average.

The new board consists of P. M. Sanford, now on his fourth year as president; E. B. Bull and C. S. Renwick vice-presidents, both re-elected at the recent annual election; T. H. DeLap, O. R. Ludewig, J. F. Brooks, Henry A. Johnston, E. M. Downer, Fred Caudle, W. W. Scott, A. L. Paulsen, George N. Rooker, W. T. Helms, M. A. Hays, J. A. McVittie, Aubrey Wilson, T. M. Carlson, Fred Newsom, C. C. Kratzer, F. B. LaMoine and Ralph H. Bergen.

Mrs. P. Shubat Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services will be conducted from the St. Paul's Catholic church San Pablo at 9:30 tomorrow morning for Mrs. Philomena Shubat, 2354 Clinton avenue. Interment will be in the St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Shubat passed away yesterday after an illness of two weeks' duration. She was the wife of John Shubat, Sr. and was 70 years old. She came to Richmond 22 years ago.

She leaves four sons and one daughter, Antoni, Nicholas, John and Frank Shubat and Mrs. Catherine Frankie, all of Richmond; also one brother, John Toratto, of Richmond.

Pageant For Children At Bulgin Meet

The children's Chataqua and pageant will be given tonight promptly at 7:30 at the First Baptist church. This Chataqua and pageant is the outgrowth of the Roy Gourley children's meeting. Two hundred children will take part in the songs, the yells, the Bible drills and in other beautiful features showing the different phases of the work done.

Five prizes will be awarded, a first prize of $5.00 will be given to the child who quotes best the golden texts used during the meetings. There will be a second prize of $2.00, third fourth and fifth prizes of $1.00 each. The contestants are: Orla June Reives, Katherine Baston, Ruth Baston, Theodore Baston and Norman Wees, Edward Lassater, Barbara Underwood, Jean Greaser and Orla June Reives will furnish special numbers. Seven girls from different churches of the city will present a beautiful pageant entitled "The Pearly Gates." Every effort will be made by the local church to find comfortable seats for all who attend.

WALES MAKES SECOND TRIP TO MINES

WASHINGTON, Eng., Jan. 30.—(U.P.)—The Prince of Wales fought his way through growing crowds here today on the second day of his tour of Northumberland villages where unemployed miners' families are living in greatest poverty and distress.

As on the first day of his tour, which is designed to speed relief for the suffering women and children, the prince walked through muddy streets where scenes of mid-winter hardship rose on every side.

There was an apparent determination to redouble his efforts to bring the pitiful picture before the eyes of the British public as he left the first village, Dudley, and the determination grew as his tour continued.

Prince Shocked

"I never thought conditions could be so bad," he said as he left Dudley.

The prince was jostled by a large crowd when he entered Ashington. A cheering crowd of about 1000 persons broke the scanty police lines and surrounded him.

Police and volunteers had to fight a way to a nearby store for the prince. When he had made his way inside the store, the white-faced children and their parents still crowded about the entrance, shouting his name.

Everywhere the prince went — and he walked again today in the slushy streets and into the tiny, bare houses — the people responded courageously and loyally despite their suffering. They seemed confident that the young man would be able to aid them in some way.

Smile Gone

The famous Prince of Wales smile was not apparent today, however, as a minor's wife, Mrs. Kelly, guided him through two-inch mud and coal dust and described the sufferings of the village of Benton. Two thirds of the miners there have been without work for months and their families have been forced to subsist on the small fund provided for the unemployed.

The prince visited the poorest of the cottages, chatting intimately with the men and women. He shook coal-grimy hands of those men fortunate enough to find some work and sympathized with the jobless.

Will be a most prosperous year for Richmond, and one of great activity industrially and in the building line. Harbor development will reach such a stage that deep water will be available for the largest vessels.

What Is Coming

Ford Motor Company will start on its new assembling plant the latter part of the year.

The Mintzer tract of nearly 200 acres will be developed so that industries will be afforded choice locations.

The two new harbor units of the City of Richmond and the Parr Terminal Corporation, costing over $500,000 will be completed next July and be ready to receive cargo.

There is much activity at the new plant of the California Spray Chemical company, and the plant will be operating shortly after January 1st.

All plans for the new factory of the California Vitreous Porcelain company are complete, and work on the buildings to be erected on Kearney street will start in about two months.

There are many other things in the wind, for 1929, details of which will be given you later.

Richmond and Central Market Store News

Just a word regarding the overworked phrase "SPECIALS." This term is oft times used to unload on the unsuspecting public merchandise of questionable character from the standpoint of QUALITY and its place among foods wholly fit for human consumption.

It is well at this time to remind ourselves of the well known fact that we do not get something for nothing. In this day and age of keen competitive merchandising PRICE represents the true QUALITY and character of the commodity in question. Discriminating buyers do not take into consideration PRICE alone but rather a combination of PRICE and QUALITY.

The merchandise we offer you in this space every day represents the best we can obtain, purchased only after we have given them every test years of experience have taught us go to make up the requirements of real dyed in the wool merchandise.
